

Jabra Engage 65 Stereo Wireless Headset Overview

Jabra Engage 65 Stereo - A New Miracle!

Jabra Engage 65 stereo is a new family member of DECT wireless professional headset that has been manufactured keeping the difficulties faced by call-centric businesses and other certain demands of people.

Jabra Engage 65 stereo is famous for its high quality call system which in return positively affects the satisfaction and functionality of customers and employee. A step to success is right in front of your eyes!

A Strong Connection is the Best Connection:

You can talk as much you want to. There is no limit at all. The device was specifically built to combat this issue. We know how deeply annoying it is when you are busy conversing, and suddenly there is a tiny peep and the connection is doomed.

It is affordable when you are just gossiping with friends, but when it comes to businesses and organizations; you can seriously not deal with this! Well, your issues are finally resolved! Moreover, the dual ear power of this stereo headphone gives a realistic touch to your call encounters. You wouldn't know if the people are behind the screens or in front of you.

Move As Much While You Can:

No one likes to sit idly at the same spot for several hours. You might know how much this sucks if you are an office going person. There is an instant charm in changing your place every now and then to refine your experience of working.

To be honest, you will certainly be feeling more productive. Luckily for us, Jabra Engage 65 Stereo is quite against in restricting its customers, and hence provides much needed freedom of moving your legs along with your work by the exceptional range up to 150 meters/490 feet.

Interruptions Are For Bed-Time Stories Only:

We all were at a point once when we were busy enjoying our favorite music and our mothers constantly interrupted us. Even now, we can't properly watch something or converse with someone because of the frequent distractions from the surroundings.

With Jabra Engage 65 Stereo, all these issues are completely useless since it is providing us with an integrated busy light option that is responsible for mimicking the 'do not disturb sign' this will allow people to know that you are busy and should not be disturbed at any cost. This specific feature is extremely crucial for business calls and professional works.

More People, More Fun:

Group calls are always fun! No one can ever deny this fact. The thing with group calls is the unclear vocal range since there are several people speaking at once, all wanting to be heard. With Jabra Engage 65 Stereo, you can have the best combined calling experience ever. It does not only have the capability of improving sound quality and range, but it is also pretty much efficient in connecting three times as many users in any allocated space.

This is definitely something to drool over! In addition to this, your business meetings are probably going to be better with this recent development in the market.

Be Safe, Be Happy:

Security is always something you look forward to whenever you get your hands on a new technology device. Customer calls deeply revolve around the sensitive information which asks for much better safety protocols. Fortunately, Jabra Engage 65 Stereo has maximum security levels that consist of authentication, encryption functions, and physical assisted pairing. There is a secret link key established which no one can ever manipulate. You are totally safe, and so is your data.
